

EmploymentWorks!

Great Jobs for Great People

Summer 2014 E Newsletter

* Latest News *

- Employmentworks have been successful in securing another employment focussed contract from the Ministry of Social Development, this new contract enables us to work with job seekers for up to 6 months to find permanent sustainable employment and once successfully in work, to support them to retain their employment for another year.

We are now able to offer employers a larger pool than ever before of potential candidates keen and ready to start work now!

This new contract has seen us welcome on board 2 new staff members. Both Adam Hindley and Deidre Doyle bring with them a wealth of experience and personal qualities that have seen them complete their first 3 months in fine form and with some great results.

- We now have a pool of well over 100 candidates across Auckland who have skills and experience ranging from Marketing to Mig welding, Construction to CEO's, Graphic Design to Gardening.
- We have also welcomed Employment Consultant Sinead Looney and Administration Assistant Dannei Donaldson to EmploymentWorks, they are both doing some sterling work and all of our new staff are a great fit with the team.

HOT OFF THE PRESS..

People skills and IT savvy in demand – NZ Herald 15.02.14

New Zealand's economy is on the up and many industries are looking to hire. Areas identified by the Ministry of Business, Innovation and Employment are:

- Digital and Creative Technologies
- Network Administrators
- People-focused Services
- Aged Care and Health
- Sustainability Experts
- Construction and Trades

To read the article in full please go to the NZ Herald website or click the link: http://www.nzherald.co.nz/business/news/article.cfm?c_id=3&objectid=11202474

Need new staff but sick of spending time and money to find them?

We are a free recruitment service that has specialized in placing the right people into the right jobs for the last 10 years.

We take the hard yards out of your recruitment.

Give us a call and we can meet with you to find out more about who you need and when.

(09) 837 5240

Labour market strengthens – Media release Feb 2014

The labour market continues to grow and unemployment has fallen to 6.0 percent, Statistics New Zealand said today. There were 24,000 more people employed in the December 2013 quarter, following an additional 28,000 in the September quarter.

Over the December 2013 year, the number of people employed rose 3.0 percent in the Household Labour Force Survey (HLFS). Demand for workers from established businesses rose 1.9 percent in the Quarterly Employment Survey (QES).

"We're seeing strength across the labour market, particularly in the industries that provide services," industry and labour statistics manager Diane Ramsay said. "The unemployment rate has been falling and employment rising for the last 18 months, with both now at levels last seen in early 2009."

"The driving force of a career must come from the individual. Remember: Jobs are owned by the company, you own your career!" Earl Nightingale